AFTER STOCK TAKING

Clearance Sale

—OF—

CARPET AND MATTING REMNANTS.

AND THIS IS THE WHY! At the end of every season the carpet mills are in the habit of dropping out a goodly portion of the previous season's patterns to make way for the new designs that must take up the looms. Every carpet store then finds itself in possession of a quantity of "short ends" or remnants, sometimes the most desirable patterns in its stock, which it is impossible to get more of.

Some concerns hang on to these one-room pieces hoping the customers will come along some day who will need just the amount—no need to sacrifice them. Not so here—we hunt for the customers. Got a room to cover? Bring on the measure get the remnant out of our way and keep the extra $5 or $10 in your own pocket.

NO SCENES OUT OF THE ORDINARY

Fifty-Ninth Congress Came to an End at Noon.

Cannon and Fairbanks Thanked for Impartiality.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The Fifty-ninth Congress was ended at 12 o'clock noon, today, according to the declarations of the presiding officers of the Senate and House, although the clocks in the former marked 12:13 p. m. and in the latter 12:15 p. m. No scenes out of the ordinary occurred in either branch of Congress. Resolutions were adopted, thanking Vice President Fairbanks and Speaker Cannon for their impartiality, and responses were made by these presiding officers just prior to their letting fall of the gavels, which adjourned the Congress sine die. At the close of the proceedings the visitors in the galleries applauded with cheers and handclapping, and then followed the exchange of farewells by members.

FILIBUSTERS IN THE SENATE.

Thanks of That Body Conveyed to the Vice President in Resolution.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The Senate resumed session today at 9:30 o'clock as on the legislative day of Saturday last. Senator Carmack was on his feet to continue his filibuster against the ship subsidy bill. There was no other business ready, so Senator Hale moved that a recess be taken until 10:15 o'clock. No objection was made and the motion was adopted.

The Senate had just been relieved of the filibuster of the ship subsidy bill when another was begun. Senator McCumber brought up the ancient claim of the heirs of Samuel Lee, for reimbursement on account of an election contest. Senator Latimer, who has consistently opposed the bill, at once took the floor. Senator McCumber asked if the opposition was to be continued to the limit. Senator Latimer replied that it was, whereupon Mr. McCumber withdrew the bill.

At 11:35 o'clock, Senator Beveridge called up a long bill for the protection of game in Alaska. Its reading was demanded by Mr. Culberson, and had proceeded for five minutes when Senator Carter suggested that it would be impossible to get the bill engrossed before noon, even if it were passed.

"I wish to call attention to the fact that the bill must necessarily be amended," said Senator Clapp. "It gives no protection to woodchucks, and there is no exception against the penalty of the law for men who kill ducks and prairie chickens in self-defence."

The bill was withdrawn amid laughter.

The closing exercises in the Senate did not begin until 12:06. Previous to this Senator Hale had secured the adoption of a joint resolution authorizing a committee of Senators and Representatives to wait upon the President and inform him that the work of the Fifty-ninth Congress was finished "unless the President has some other communication to make." Senators Hale and Pettus were appointed on this committee. The adjournment hour had passed when they announced that the President had been communicated with, and that he had replied that he "has no further communication."

Senator Allison then took the presiding officer's chair and Mr. Fairbanks retired to the Vice President's room. Senator Blackburn, the minority leader, took the floor and offered a resolution tendering "the thanks of the Senate to the Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks, Vice President of the United States and President of the Senate, for the dignified, impartial and courteous manner in which he has preside dover its deliberations during the present session." The resolution was unanimously adopted. The Vice President then appeared in the chamber, took the chair and replied to the resolution. Generous applause greeted his remarks and the scene quickly changed to one of farewells and hand-shaking.

WILL NOT PRESS IT.

Senator Gallinger Withdraws Subsidy Bill from Consideration.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The ship subsidy bill received its quietus in the Senate at 11 o'clock today, when Senator Gallinger, in charge of the measure, finally announced his decision not to press it for further consideration. Before making this announcement he made a last request for a vote, whereupon Mr. Carmack expressed his regret "that the bill would still lead to extended debate." Thereupon Mr. Gallinger made the final announcement that he would not further press the measure during this session. Before, however, he came to this statement, he made a furious, though brief, argument in support of the bill. Two days of "frivolous debate," he said, had occurred on the measure, and he felt it to be his duty to call attention to the salient points involved in connection with the subject.

Mr. Gallinger said in giving up the fight for the bill at this session he did so without any feeling of hostility or unkindness. "With this," he said, "I am content to let the matter rest for the present. But I want to give notice to my associates in this chamber and to the citizens of this republic that so long as I remain in public life I shall not remain silent but shall exert myself to the utmost to secure legislation on this important subject."

He expressed the belief that with the support of Democratic members, which he had been assured of, he would get action in a measure practically along the lines of the present bill at the next session of Congress. Mr. Gallinger concluded at 11 o'clock, withdrawing the shipping bill at that time.

SING AND WAVE FLAGS.

Members of House of Representatives Make the Walls Ring.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—"My Country, 'Tis of Thee" rang out in the House of Representatives today as the clock was turned back 16 minutes, in order that the La Follette bill limiting the hours of labor for railroad employes might be enrolled. A recess was ordered, and then the songs began. Hundreds of waving flags in the hands of the members made a striking picture. The galleries joined in the choruses and made the historic chamber ring. The Speaker called Mr. Clark of Missouri to the chair.

Mr. Williams of Mississippi, the minority leader, addressing the House, said that the work performed by the Fifty-ninth Congress would stand as the best work the nation has had in many years.

Mr. Williams then presented the following resolution:

"That the thanks of the Fifty-ninth Congress are due to the Hon. Joseph G. Cannon, its honored and distinguished Speaker, for the intelligent, constant and impartial manner in which he has presided over its important deliberations."

A committee was directed to "bring in" Speaker Cannon. Down the centre aisle the committee escorted him while the chamber rang with applause. With a tremor in his voice, the Speaker said:

"I thank you, gentlemen, for your kindness in the deed and the words of this day, but even more cordially do I thank you for your unwearying and constant friendship during every one of the laborious and eventful days of the Fifty-ninth Congress. Some Congresses have done their work under the stress of national trial and even national disaster; it has been our good fortune to do our work in a period of prosperity so abounding as to surpass all the imaginings of the past. The statesmen of the days of stress will always have first place in the affections of the President, and rightly so, but the men who with loyalty and devotion strive to keep a mighty nation in the pathway of prudence and common sense, while prosperity abounds on every corner, have troubles not always understood or sympathized with by the people, but which you well know of.

"In the two years now closed—years eventful in the precedents set in these legislative halls, and we hope and believe eventful for the good that may come to the people therefrom—your fidelity to your own duty and your intelligent appreciation of my duty, even when it has crossed some of your cherished purposes, has been my constant encouragement and support. In bidding you farewell, I wish to express to you any appreciation of this, and to wish you in the future all success and all usefulness in your chosen walks of life.

"And now, in pursuance of the requirements of the constitution, I declare the House of Representatives of the Fifty-ninth Congress adjourned without day."

At 12:15 by solar time, the Fifty-ninth Congress came to an end.

SIGNS FORTY BILLS.

President Roosevelt Completes His Task a Little After Noon.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The President left the White House at 10:50 a. m. for the Capitol. Before leaving the executive offices the Aldrich currency bill was signed and the first measure signed after his arrival at the capital was one authorizing an immigrant station at Charlestown, S. C.

Among the President's guests in the room set aside for him in the Senate wing, in addition to the members of the cabinet, were James R. Garfield, who will succeed Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock; George L. von Meyer, who succeeds George B. Cortelyou as Postmaster General, and several assistant secretaries of departments.

The President was assisted in his work of perusing bills by Secretary Loeb and other members of the White House staff.

Forty bills in all were signed by the President at the Capitol. Delay in engrossing the bill limiting the hours of railway employes prevented the President from completing his task before noon and it was 12:03 when he attached his signature to that measure. H. R. Fuller, who has been representing the various railway brotherhoods at the Capitol during the consideration of this measure, was in the room at the time it was signed. The President shook hands with Mr. Fuller, remarking: "You know the President only gets a percentage of what he wants." Mr. Roosevelt then told Mr Fuller that the measure was a step in the right direction and he hoped it would result in more sweeping legislation in the future. After attaching his signature to the bill, the President chatted with members of his cabinet and other visitors for a short time, leaving the Capitol at 12:25 on his return to the White House.

ARCHIE ROOSEVELT BETTER.

Surgeon General Rixey Says His Condition is Satisfactory.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Considerable improvement is shown today in the condition of Archie Roosevelt, the third son of the President, who has been ill since last Friday with an attack of diphtheria. Surgeon General Rixey, of the navy, the family physician of the Roosevelts, visited the sick boy early today, and upon leaving the White House said that Archie's condition was very satisfactory.

Dr. Alexander Lambert of New York, who was the physician of the Roosevelt family before they came to Washington, was in consultation with Dr. Rixey this morning. He probably will leave for his home tonight.

ONE ASSASSIN CAPTURED.

Prison Inspector Shot and Killed by Three Revolutionists.

UFA, March 4.—Prison Inspector Kolbe was shot and killed today by three revolutionists, while in front of the door of his private residence. One of the assassins was captured. He said that the inspector had been sentenced to death by the social revolutionists because of his cruelty to political prisoners.

LONDON, March 4.—The resignation of Governor Swettenham of Jamaica has become an accomplished fact, and he will leave that island as soon as his affairs can be arranged.

UNSOUND MIND AT TIME OF SHOOTING.

Dr. Evans Testifies as to Thaw's Condition.

Dr. Wagner Also Cross-Examined by Jerome.

NEW YORK, March 4.—District Attorney Jerome today concluded his long cross-examination of Dr. Britton D. Evans, the alienist for the defense, in the Thaw trial, who has declared that Harry K. Thaw was suffering from a brain storm at the time he shot and killed Stanford White. Dr. Evans was succeeded on the stand by Dr. Charles G. Wagner of Binghamton, N. Y., also an alienist for the defense, and his cross-examination was begun.

The formalities of postponing the March term of the criminal branch of the supreme court had to be gone through this morning before the trial was resumed. Thaw's case was begun in the January term, and that term will be continued until it is disposed of.

Dr. Britton D. Evans, the New Jersey alienist, who was under cross-examination Wednesday, Thursday and Friday last, was again placed upon the witness stand as soon as Thaw was called to the bar.

Thaw again brought into court several big brown portfolio envelopes filled with letters. He receives several scores of missives daily, some of the letters coming from across the seas and his Monday morning mail always is heavy.

Thaw engaged his lawyers in earnest consultation when he took his usual place. He directed his remarks especially at Mr. Peabody and Mr. McPike. The latter seemed desirous of avoiding the conversation, and drew back several times with tolerant nods of his head. The defendant, however, was serious and earnest and would not be denied. He continued to talk for some minutes. Then he sat back and listened to the first questions addressed by District Attorney Jerome to Dr. Evans.

It was about the first time he had paid the slightest attention to the witness since he took the stand. Thaw did not listen long, however, but turned to Daniel O'Reilly and began to talk rapidly to him. Thaw's lips could be seen moving very rapidly as he whispered into O'Reilly's ear.

In resuming his cross-examination of Dr. Evans, Mr. Jerome asked:

"Doctor, reverting to the night of the shooting of Stanford White, does the fact that the defendant walked deliberately away without excitement after the shooting appear to you to be an important fact in determining whether or not the defendant was insane?"

"Yes, it leads me to believe he was of unsound mind; that is, when taken in connection with the other incidents."

"That his step was slow and measured and that he manifested no agitation, you deem of importance?"

"Yes, taken in connection with other facts."

"Your opinion is that he was of unsound mind?"

"Yes, based on all the facts and the somewhat dramatic manner in which he acted. The fact that he walked deliberately away without any effort to escape indicates to me that he did not know he did anything wrong, did not know he had done anything that should make him shrink from his fellow men or from the officers of the law."

"Then his attitude was one of satisfaction with his deed?"

"I would hardly go as far as that."

"When he walked toward his wife, did he know in which direction he was going?"

"In view of the fact that he walked towards his wife, it seems to me that he did."

"The fact," said Mr. Jerome, "that Thaw told the fireman who seized him 'he ruined my wife'—does that indicate to you that this defendant knew he had killed Stanford White?"

"It indicates to me that this one thought which had weighed down upon him—which had been devouring his soul—was still with him."

"Do you think that in yielding up his pistol Thaw knew what he was doing?"

"I don't know whether he knew that or not."

"Don't you think that in saying 'he ruined my wife' Thaw was giving a reason for killing Stanford White?"

"I couldn't say that."

"Well, what was the mental process which led him to say it?"

"This idea of his wife being ruined by Stanford White was still in his mind—in the forefront of his thought."

"When defendant said to the man

CARMACK TALKS BILL TO DEATH.

Keeps Senators Convulsed by His Ship Subsidy Speech.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The session of the Senate today was in the nature of obsequies on the ship subsidy bill, with Senator Carmack of Tennessee as master of ceremonies. It was evident that Mr. Carmack was not officiating as chief mourner. That office was reserved for Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, chairman of the joint Congressional committee that reported the bill.

When the Senate adjourned a few minutes before midnight the bill was still pending, but it was facing the absolute certainty of failure with the close of Congress at noon tomorrow. Speeches intended for no other purpose than to kill time were made by Senators Carmack, Dubois, Overman, Newlands and others, who frankly confessed their intention of defeating consideration of the, to them, objectionable measure. When the recess was taken at 11:40 tonight the friends of the bill had given up all hope of obtaining any shipping legislation during the present session.

Mr. Carmack, as the director of the minority movement against the bill, kept the members convulsed with his sallies, and at no time did he try to hide the fact that his effort was a filibuster, pure and simple. He scorned subterfuge and at the outset of his remarks came into the open by addressing himself principally to the term "filibusterers" which Mr. Gallinger yesterday applied to the Democratic Senators who have undertaken to defeat the measure.

Senator Frye of Maine took occasion to rebuke the whole proceeding as unseemly and undignified. For the Senate to hold a session on the Sabbath day, he remarked, for the sole purpose of frivolous debate for the amusement of the galleries was about the most unseemly proceeding he had ever witnessed.

At 6:30 the Senate took a recess until 8:30 o'clock.

The filibuster was continued when the Senate resumed its session. Senators Dubois and Carmack made an appeal to Senator Gallinger to withdraw the bill but he did not comply with the request.

SENATOR SPOONER RESIGNS.

Gives His Colleagues Greatest Surprise of the Session.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Senate was treated to its greatest surprise of the present session today, when it became known that Senator John C. Spooner has resigned to take up the practice of law and will retire to private life May 1. The Senator's letter to Governor James O. Davidson of Wisconsin, tendering his resignation was dated yesterday, but the fact that such a letter had been written or even that Mr. Spooner had contemplated such a step had been secrets which were guarded closely.

The announcement created a tremendous sensation, and the Senator at once found himself the centre of an excited and anxious group, who plied him with questions faster than he could answer them. To all inquirers he made the same reply—that his mind was irrevocably made up; that he could not be induced to recall his resignation and that he had found to continue in his present position would require a sacrifice on his part that he could not justify himself in making. In reply to questions he said he would resume the practice of law, but declined to say whether or not he would be located in Wisconsin. He did say, however, that he would continue to be a citizen of that state as long as he lives.

Vice President Fairbanks was one of the few public men to be made acquainted with Mr. Spooner's plans before he wrote his letter. The knowledge came to him through the personal confidence of the Senator, but the latter made no official communication on the subject to either the Senate or its presiding officer. The law does not require that a resigning Senator should do more than Mr. Spooner has done, but some Senators who have resigned have given notice to the Senate.

GLOVER LOSES $20,000 BY SUIT.

Mrs. Eddy Not in Sympathy With Action Taken by Relatives.

CONCORD, N. H., March 3.—Because George W. Glover, only son of Mrs. Baker G. Eddy, his daughter, Miss Mary Baker Glover, and George W. Baker, her only nephew, have filed a bill in equity as "next friends" of the Christian Science leader, seeking an accounting of her property from the men who surround her at her home here, and the leaders of the church corporation in Boston, it does not necessarily follow that Mrs. Eddy is to be brought into court, or that she will be obliged to make depositions.

The defendants named by the plaintiffs in their petition filed in the Merrimac County superior court propose to fight the proceedings to the very end, and in addition, Mrs. Eddy's personal counsel, General Frank H. Streeter, says that she has no sympathy with the action taken by her blood relatives, and that, although she seemingly is made the plaintiff in the bill, Mrs. Eddy was not cognizant of their intentions.

It was said tonight by a prominent lawyer who is familiar with Christian Science business matters that the proceeding has not any precedent in New Hampshire, for the reason that Mrs. Eddy is not in sympathy with the move and that therefore it is not unlikely that the case will be taken to the supreme court of New Hampshire to determine whether or not the petitioners' bill is legal.

Should the supreme court decide the law questions which may be raised in favor of the defendants and Mrs. Eddy, the whole case would be immediately quashed and the Christian Science leader would not be obliged to appear in court or submit to the examination of physicians appointed by the court to determine her mental and physical condition. Should the ruling be against the defendants, the lawyer said, then the case would, of course, be sent back to the superior court to be tried upon its merits, and he did not see how a personal examination of Mrs. Eddy could be avoided.

George W. Glover, the only son of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, would have been, with his children, the beneficiary under a large trust fund, estimated at $150,000 to $200,000, established by his mother, had he not brought the court proceedings of Friday night.

Mrs. Eddy's counsel or any one connected with Pleasant View will not admit that such a trust had been executed and would have become operative but for the annulment which necessarily follows the bringing of guilty proceedings. However, in an official statement given to the press at 8 o'clock this evening Mrs. Eddy's personal counsel, General Frank S. Streeter, says:

"None of the defendants named, except Mr. Frye, have any connection with the management of her (meaning Mrs. Eddy) property or investments, or have any knowledge whatever in reference thereto, nor have any of the said defendants ever received any property of Mrs. Eddy's which they hold in trust or otherwise except in one instance for the benefit of her relatives."

This "one instance" is believed to refer to the trust of from $150,000 to $200,000 which has been executed within the past week, and of which George W. Glover would have been informed, had not the publicity of equity proceedings changed the plans made at Pleasant View.

It is believed on good authority that an attempt was made within an hour of the sending out of first despatches on the equity proceedings to have publicity suspended until the trust proposition could be submitted to Mr. Glover.

It is understood that the income of the trust fund was to be settled upon Mr. Glover upon certain conditions. These conditions were that he agree, with the other heirs benefited by the trust, not to contest Mrs. Eddy's will or question the legality of any endowment or gift which Mrs. Eddy might choose to bestow or convey in any manner during her lifetime.

WHITE HOUSE QUARANTINED.

Archie Roosevelt Ill with Mild Case of Diphtheria.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—President Roosevelt's young son, Archie, has diphtheria, but it is said he is not seriously ill. The patient has been isolated in the south-east room of the White House, and a strict quarantine is being maintained.

Surgeon General Rixey, the President's physician, said tonight that he was first called in to see Archie last Friday. Dr. Rixey at once began the use of anti-toxin and sent for a trained nurse. He has assured the President and Mrs. Roosevelt that their son is not seriously ill, and that there is no occasion for alarm. Archie was in school last week until the day he was taken ill.

SCULLING CHAMPION OF WORLD

Australian Defeats Canadian Rower in New South Wales.

SYDNEY, New South Wales, March 2.—George Towns, an Australian sculler, today defeated Edward Durnan, of Canada, by three lengths, for the sculling championship of the world. The race took place on the Nepean river, and was for $2,500 a side.

Towns, who was the favorite, won the toss for position. At the quarter of a mile post, Durnan led by half a length, but Towns quickly overhauled him, and was a half length in front at the half mile. When the two mile post was reached Towns was three lengths ahead, and he maintained this lead until the end of the race.

TAKEN BY NICARAGUA.

El Corpus, the Key at Tegucigalpa. Honduras, Falls.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The American legation at Tegucigalpa, Honduras, has informed the State Department that the government of that country has called upon the Salvadorean minister to secure from his government a categorical reply to the question as to its attitude in the present war between Nicaragua and Honduras—whether it is an ally or enemy of Honduras.

A cablegram received at the department from a Central American source is to the effect that a naval expedition is leaving a gulf port of Honduras to attack Bluefields, Nicaragua.

News of an important engagement between the forces of Nicaragua and Honduras was received at the State Department today in the shape of a cable message from American consul Olivares at Managua, Nicaragua, as follows:

"El Corpus, key of position at Tegucigalpa, was taken by Nicaragua today. Four battalions of Nicaraguans and a strong force of Hondurans were engaged. Action brilliant."

DEFEATS OLD-TIME RIVALS.

Rogers High Gains Victory Over St. George's School.

The Navy Boston, 17 to 16, by Association Team—Hatchet Club to Play in "Executive Session."

Rogers High went over to St. George's School Saturday evening with the expectation of being shown a few points in basket ball science. They returned jubilant over having defeated their old-time rivals. The fact is, they played all around St. George in every department of the game. At the final whistle Rogers had rolled up 33 points to their opponents' 14.

At the start St. George's set a fast pace, and before Rogers woke up, had scored five points. Then the visiting team began to hold its own, and after about 10 minutes of play, Grinnell and Babcock threw two baskets in quick succession. St. George's put up a hard struggle for the rest of the game, but it was in vain. The superior condition of the High School team soon became evident, for St. George's was unable to keep up with them. The first half ended 20 to 9.

Neither side scored so much in the second half. Rogers put in two new players, not because the other two were exhausted, but just to give the substitutes "a show." Whenever St. George's players secured the ball they failed to keep it long, for the High school boys were too quick for them. Rogers was exceptionally lucky in shooting, but it was not all luck either. It was only by fast work in getting away from their men that McLeod and Babcock made so many goals.

Twice Chase was given an open shot, and each time he proved equal to the occasion. Fate seemed to be against St. George's, for once the ball landed between the basket and the back-board, and was about to roll into the basket, when Kerr had presence of mind enough to jump and knock it aside. The game was fast and not too one-sided to be interesting. The line-up was as follows:

St. George's	Rogers High
Alger, r. f.	r. f., Grinnell
Johnson, l. f.	l. f., Babcock, Stevens
Wilder, c.	c., McLeod
Halston, r. b.	r. b. Harrington, Kerr
Fenner, l. b.	l. b., Chace

Score—Rogers High School 33; St. George's School 14. Goals from floor—Alger 2, Johnson 2, Fenner 2, Grinnell, Babcock 5, McLeod 7, Chace 2. Fouls—Wilder 2, McLeod. Timer—Wheeler. Referee, Pitman.

The basket ball team of battleship New Jersey played at the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium Saturday against the Association team. Will Garniss, formerly at the Training Station, played with the visitors. It is known that Garniss knew how to play basket ball when he was here, but there were no signs that the visitors knew anything about the game Saturday evening. Football of the old-fashioned kind is what the visitors played in the second half. In the first half the game was not so strenuous and the local players led, 12 to 6. In the second half the visitors opened up their "rough-house" section and led, 10 to 5, but this was not enough to overcome the lead of the locals in the first half, so the navy was beaten, 17 to 16. The excitement was somewhat acute toward the end, but the basket ball team, or at least the team that came the nearest to playing basket ball, won. The line up follows:

Young Men's Christian Association.	New Jersey.
Allen, Dillon, l. f.	l. f., Gill
Rutledge, r. f.	r. f. Milligan
McGee, c.	c., Garniss
Barker, l. b.	l. b., Pfefers
Coggeshall, r. b.	r. b., Beckman, Clochberg

Score—Young Men's Christian Association 17; New Jersey 16.

There has been no official notice of any such game, but it is whispered "sub rosa" that the Hachet Club is to have a game tomorrow night, but that it will be an "executive session," in that it will be for members only. There is no question but a number of friends of the players would be willing to contribute toward the fund for arnica, omega oil, strengthening and court plasters that will be called for after the game, provided only they could see the playing. There are some things too good for public exhibition, and this game is, at present, considered one of them.

The seven who played against St. George's for Rogers last Saturday evening, will be rewarded with R's, that being the third game won by the new team. These players deserve them well, because they came to the support of the basket ball team when everyone else thought it must be disbanded.

Rogers was well represented at the St. George's gymnasium the other night. Two wagon loads of rooters made a steady round of cheering. The St. George's boys had loud voices, but failed to drown out the Rogers crowd.

The title of George M. Cohan's newest play is "The Honeymooners." It will be produced at the Aerial Garden, above the New Amsterdam Theatre, in June.

Daniel Frohman's production of "The Spoilers" will be given its local premiere in the New York Theatre next Monday evening. The company will include Ralph Stuart, Campbell Gollan, George Osborne, Edmund Elton, Evelyn Vaughan, Harriet Worthington and Gladys Hanson.

Preparations for the English production of Liebler & Co.'s "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" have been completed and the play will open with a complete American cast, headed by Mrs. Madge Carr Cook, in Terry's Theatre, London, April 21.

Maurice Campbell, manager for Henrietta Crosman, has sailed for Europe to arrange for the production of "The Pilgrim's Progress" at the Liberty Theatre, London, next October. While in Vienna he will endeavor to induce Richard Strauss to write the music for the production, which it is aimed to make one of the most noteworthy of late years.

Charles Klein's play, "The Lion and the Mouse," as novelized by Arthur Hornblow, is now in its sixth edition. The success has caused Mr. Klein to be deluged with offers for the book rights of his latest triumph, "The Daughters of Men," and it is quite likely that the play will be issued in book form in the late spring.

For the little girl's party frocks the best makers are displaying fine and sheer linens and cotton goods. That they are all of the washable variety goes without saying, for in the modern nursery anything that cannot be cleansed by soap and water is not acceptable. The little frock that is pictured herewith is in a fine Irish handkerchief linen, although a good India linon or a fine Persian lawn would develop it fully as well. The long-waisted French blouse style is adhered to, bringing the waist line down to somewhere in the region of the hips, and a ceinture of twisted satin ribbon conceals the seam where the full skirt is set on.

Banding and frillings of convent embroidery are used with excellent results. The neck is cut down slightly in a square opening, the short sleeve has its frill barely covering the elbow, and the fastening is effected invisibly in the center back.

MISPLACED AFFECTION.

[The Bohemian.]

A Fool there was and he made his prayer
Even as you and I;
What matter the color of eyes or hair?
Just fix that yourself, for you've all been there;
Now he wanted a kiss—but he didn't dare,
Even as you and I.

So he asked for one—such a foolish thing—
But he didn't even try;
And the maid was thinking about a ring,
And a wedding—perhaps—in the coming spring,
And she said to herself: "I'd like to sing."
But she gave a little sigh.

For the Fool had ventured to call her "Dear"
Even as you and I;
But the maid showed never a sign of fear,
Tho' if truth be told, he was rather near,
And he sought her lips—but he kissed her ear,
Even as you and I.

"Er—really," began Mr. Chesley, "you have the advantage of me, sir. My memory, perhaps, is at fault, but—"

"No," interrupted Pepprey, "it isn't your memory, but your manners."—[Philadelphia Press.

She—No, Jack, I'm afraid it's impossible. We should never get on well together. You know I always want my own way so much."

He—Well, that's all right. You could go on wanting it after we were married.—[Pick-Me-Up.

A young woman anxious to secure a servant wandered into an intelligence office yesterday.

"Do yez be changing girls often?" asked a sweet-faced Irish maid who was looking for a job.

"Yes, I'm sorry to say that I do. Every girl I ever had has married almost as soon as she came to me."—[Brooklyn Life.

HOW ABOUT IT?
Not just pleased with your coffee? Perhaps you are paying a quarter a pound and trying to believe that you are drinking a thirty-five cent coffee. Twenty-five cents will not buy a pound of the best coffee that grows, and you can readily find this out by consulting the price list of any reputable wholesale coffee house. If you are not pleased with what you are getting and want something better, try a pound of our private growth. You will not necessarily have to be a coffee expert to note its superior qualities. Just try it.

VERY HARD DIGGING.

We were told that Engineer Stevens desired to build the canal and would resign if the work were awarded to contractors. This prepared us to lose either the contractors or Stevens; we have now lost both. Stevens has resigned, whether voluntarily or involuntarily it is hard to tell, and the administration has rejected all the bids.

First it rejected Bangs and told Oliver to obtain some other partner. He secured some gilt-edged partners, and now the government will not have him even with them. Stevens would not play if Oliver was to be allowed in his back yard, or else he didn't want any contractors around, or he was impertinent to the President, or he prepared the contract plan and having resigned the administration feels obliged to abandon the idea of doing the work by contractors, or something else.

It is impossible to tell what has happened. But the engineers rapidly get discouraged. Wallace resigned because he concluded he had tackled a hopeless job, and Shonts resigned because he couldn't make any headway, and Stevens has resigned because he had lost heart in it, or he lost heart in it and the administration invited him to get out. It's hard luck all along the line for the administration.

There has been spent on the canal in buying out the French company and in making ready to go to work $128,000,000, which is about three-fourths of the amount which the completed canal was to cost, and the Gatun dam and the location of the locks are still in doubt. Secretary Taft is going down there to see about them, and he is not an engineer. No more is the President, who recently visited Panama and came back with glowing accounts of the rapid progress of the work, only to have Shonts and Stevens retire within a few weeks. If the President is going to put the canal through he will need to re-consider his repeated assurance that he will under no circumstances accept another term.

THE SPEED OF RAILROAD TRAINS.

Reckless railroading seems to be passing into murderous railroading. Accidents to trains which are appalling in their character, because involving the loss of many lives, are growing in frequency until there is coming to be a general demand that a halt shall be called by the railroad authorities. The fact that with all the improvements in rolling stock and safety devices accidents do not decrease, but rather grow in number and destructiveness, shows that there are fatal defects somewhere in the system by which the railroads of the country are managed. These defects differ in different fatalities, but in most of them something wrong is discovered which ought not to have been allowed to exist or occur.

Sometimes this fault is in construction or equipment, sometimes in negligence or recklessness on the part of employes, and sometimes in unwarranted increase of speed to make up time lost by unavoidable delays. The last of these was the trouble in the case of one of the recent fatalities in New York state, according to the testimony of some of the surveyors, who said emphatically and with conviction that a curve was taken by the train at so high a speed that it was of necessity thrown from the rails as the long sweep was made. There is no question that the tendency on railroads in this country is to run on occasion at too high a rate of speed to be entirely safe for the passengers. This may seem inconsistent with the constant complaints which are made of slow trains and almost interminable delays, but it is not schedule time to which objection is made and which ordinarily results in disaster, but the deliberate and dangerous attempt to recover lost time by running at a speed much above the rate ordinarily permitted.

It may be claimed, and often is claimed, by the railroads that their patrons demand not only swift schedule time but terrific spurts in the attempt to resume schedule after it has been lost, and it is true that the tendency of the traveling public is constantly to increase its demands for fast trains. But it must be borne in mind that in this demand there is no desire or expectation that the high speed maintained either regularly or occasionally shall be actually dangerous and likely to result in accident attended by loss of life. People like to travel fast, but they want to feel at least reasonably sure of reaching their destination in safety. They are impatient of delay, but would rather lose appointments than their lives.

It must be borne in mind also that the railroad managers must be the final judges as to the conditions of safety in the running of trains. When the public asks for a fast train it means one which can be run fast but at the same time safely. It is expected that the final decision as to the point where safety ends and danger begins in the running time of trains shall be made by the railroad companies. And even if the traveling public did not place this confidence in the managers of railroads, the latter would not be justified in maintaining schedules or permitting spurts of speed which would endanger the lives of their patrons. They are the guardians of those whom they carry, and ought to be held responsible for all accidents which are avoidable.

CAPITAL NOT VERY TIMID.

There is a great wail from railroad magnates who are putting out stocks in highly watered concerns, that the popular outcry against railroads is making it impossible to raise new capital. That is what the officials of the Philadelphia street railroad concern are complaining of. The fact is that the street railways of that city, like those of New York and Chicago, have been merged and merged again, each time with an enormous inflation of the nominal capital, and now the Philadelphia street car concern is paying so much interest and rentals that there is nothing left for dividends, while the shareholders of some of the underlying companies are receiving 75 per cent a year on their investment.

The New York Journal of Commerce announced just after the middle of February that since January 1 nearly $600,000,000 of new capital had been authorized and $330,000,000 had been marketed. This doesn't mean that all of it had passed into the possession of investors, but it had been disposed of to bankers and they had sold parts of it. It was after this statement that the Pennsylvania railroad announced the sale of $60,000,000 of three-year notes, a good part of which had already passed into the possession of investors.

These facts do not look as though it were impossible to raise new capital where there is a good prospect of securing dividends, though it may be impossible to sell more securities in a concern already over-capitalized and not paying dividends. Mr. Yoeum, chairman of the executive committee of the Rock Island system, isn't much frightened over the anti-railroad feeling on the part of the public. He says it will retard, but will not stop, the development of railroads. In view of the immense amounts of capital which have been sunk in unprofitable railroad investments, it will be as well if the country goes a little slowly in this direction.

THE VALUE OF MEAT AS FOOD.

Dr. Wylie of the Department of Agriculture is getting into years, and therefore needs less meat than he did 20 years ago. So he announces that everybody ought to eat less meat. He has a conclusive argument for vegetarianism; a Japanese will haul you around all day on a pound of rice and "you could not do that on your meat diet." Of course you could not—nor on a rice diet either. It takes long training to do that sort of thing.

Is Dr. Wylie aware that it takes about eight times as many employes in a cotton mill to do a given amount of work in Japan as in this country? Is he aware of the large number of instances where the productivity of a body of laborers has been materially increased by adding meat to their diet? Has he reflected that it is the meat-eating American and Englishman who have done the greatest amount of physical labor and shown the greatest energy and that they have been closely followed in these later years by the Germans, who have in the same period added considerably to their consumption of animal food?

Dr Wylie's disinclination toward meat at a time in his life when people generally lighten their labors and their diet would not be of much importance but for the probability that Congress may pass a law embodying his conclusions.

Congress was busy Saturday, continuing the legislative session of that day into and through Sunday until midnight. All the remaining appropriation bills were agreed upon, the House passed the Aldrich financial bill in concurrence with the Senate, and the two houses agreed upon the bill regulating the hours of railway employes. The sundry civil appropriation bill, as agreed upon, included the item providing for a survey of the Appalachian and White Mountain reserves and the additional appropriation for agricultural colleges. The ship subsidy bill was talked to death.

Beginning today, President Roosevelt's cabinet is as follows: Elihu Root, Secretary of State; George B. Cortelyou, Secretary of the Treasury; William H. Taft, Secretary of War; Charles J. Bonaparte, Attorney General; Victor H. Metcalf, Secretary of the Navy; James R. Garfield, Secretary of the Interior; George von L. Meyer, Postmaster General; James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture; Oscar S. Straus, Secretary of Commerce and Labor.

Rhode Island will be lacking one representative in the United States Senate for a day at least. Senator Wetmore's term expired at noon today, and the General Assembly will not meet again to ballot on the Senatorial question until tomorrow. It is quite possible—in fact, practically certain—that the vacancy will continue more than one day, and probably will not be filled by the present legislature.

Speaker Cannon showed how important a position he occupies in the House of Representatives, in his statement that "a member could do anything by unanimous consent. An elephant might be passed if the member having charge of the elephant got the recognition of the chair for that purpose."

Pennsylvania Republican Congressmen started a Presidential boom for Senator Knox immediately after he had made a speech defending Reed Smoot's right to his seat. Evidently they are not trying to secure the votes of the women.

There is not quite so much wool on the lambs for the Wall Street shearers as there used to be. A seat on the Stock Exchange has sold for $75,000. Not very long ago a seat brought $53,000.

One spring Sunday, early in March, does not necessarily make a summer.

Two more years of President Roosevelt's administration.

Congress March 4th!

Winter, still.

AMERICAN BRONZES FOR MUSEUM.

[New York World.]

Twenty pieces of bronze sculpture by American artists have been bought by the Metropolitan Museum and are now on exhibition in the new accessions room.

This is a movement which means much to American art, and follows the recent gift of money from George A. Hearn for the purchase of American paintings as a distinct attempt to give greater recognition to the works of contemporaneous Americans—a recognition almost totally lacking up to the time Sir Purdon Clarke became director.

The bronzes were bought as a nucleus around which the museum hopes to gather, by gift and purchase, a considerable collection. They include works by Eli Harvey, Alexander P. Proctor, Hermon A. MacNeil, Gutzon Borglum, Frederick G. Roth, Bessie Potter Vonnoh, Janet Scudder, Anna Vaughn Hyatt and the late Paul Nocquet.

Another piece called "Enthroned," a group consisting of a mother and three little girls, has been presented by Mr. Hearn, and other bronzes, which are not immediately available, have been selected for purchase from the works of J. Q. A. Ward, Augustus Saint Gaudens, Kemeys, MacMonnies and others.

Taken with the magnificent bronze of "The Mares of Diomedes," by Gutzon Borglum, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Wall's gift of a set of medallions of Indian portraits by Olin L. Warner, and Edward Holbrook's gift of Rimmer's "Dying Centaur," all of which are already in the museum, these make a very considerable collection.

A new gallery recently opened at the museum contains the collection of carved woods which were purchased by Sir Purdon in England, to which are added a number of gifts from J. Pierpont Morgan. Some of the exquisite dowry chests which have been used by soulless peasants for watering troughs, are vastly improved by cleaning and renovating. The examples are divided into four groups—Gothic, renaissance, German renaissance and French eighteenth century.

A unique exhibit is a complete collection of all the imperial decorations and medals of Japan. Jacob H. Schiff and Edward D. Adams, two of the museum trustees, suggested the collection and bought it for the museum. It is composed of 46 objects in gold, silver and bronze, several of them jeweled and many enameled. All are accompanied by their corresponding sashes, ribbons and buttons and appropriately mounted on silk in lacquered cases.

George Hurley Selected as the New Rhodes Scholar.

Nearly Fatal Asphyxiation in a Boarding-House—An Anniversary Sermon.

President Faunce of Brown University has announced that George Hurley of Providence, a Senior, has been selected for a Rhodes scholarship from Rhode Island. Hurley is one of the three candidates who successfully passed the examinations last January. He was chosen by the committee on Rhodes scholars and will enter Oxford next fall for a period of three years, with an income of $1,500. At present there are two Rhodes scholars from Rhode Island in Oxford—Ralph Bevan and Leonard Cronkite. The former will return to this country next year and Hurley will fill the vacancy. Hurley was graduated from the Hope Street high school, Providence, with high honors in 1903. While at college Hurley has been prominent and has had many honors. In his Sophomore year he was associate editor of the Brunonian, the college monthly, and a member of his class debating team. While a Junior he managed the Varsity hockey team, served on the Brown banquet committee, was treasurer of the Junior Week committee, secretary and treasurer of the debating union, winner of the Hicks prize for excellence in debate, captain of the Varsity debating team and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. So far this year Hurley has been secretary of the athletic board, president of the Senior class and a member of the Camnarian Club.

Five women and 20 men who live in a boarding house conducted in connection with the Bernon cotton mills in the village of Georgiaville in the town of Smithfield were overcome by coal gas during Saturday night, and but for the timely awakening of Michael Beenville, one of the lodgers, many of them would probably have suffered serious effects from the gas poisoning, and a few possibly would have died. As it was, all the occupants of the house except John Dolan, a lodger, had practically recovered last night. Dolan's condition is such that but little hope exists for his recovery. He was unconscious nearly all day, and last night was in a state of semi-coma. He is about 40 years old and is employed by the Providence Ice Company on one of the Georgiaville ponds.

William A. Mowry, formerly principal of the old English and Classical School in Providence, and known in educational circles throughout the country as a writer and lecturer, yesterday preached a sermon at the Congregational Church in Slatersville in commemoration of the sixtieth anniversary of his union with the church. Mr. Mowry was at the head of the Providence English high school from 1859 to 1864, and for a year was superintendent of schools in Cranston. He is also past president of the Rhode Island Institute of Instruction. Mr. Mowry joined the Slatersville church in 1847, and his address yesterday, which was on the subject: "The Christian Church and Its Work 60 Years Ago and Today," contained many references to that event in his life. He referred to the changes in the form of worship which have taken place in the past half-century, particularly to the increasing freedom from bigotry and to the saner view of the Bible held today. Mr. Mowry has had a long and notable career as an educator. In addition to holding school positions in this state, he was, from 1891 to 1894, superintendent of schools in Salem, Mass., and has been president of the Martha's Vineyard Summer Institute since 1887. He has been editor of the Journal of Education, and from 1886 to 1891 was in charge of the pedagogical magazine, Education. Mr. Mowry has been president of the American Institute of Instruction and of the department of higher education in the National Educational Association. He has lectured before universities, colleges, normal schools and teachers' associations in 25 states. He is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, having served during the Civil war as captain of the Eleventh Rhode Island volunteers. Mr. Mowry now lives in Hyde Park, Mass., but is well known and popular in this state.

Alfred Bechard, a man about 21 years of age, met with a serious accident at the No. 1 pumping station, Pawtucket, last night. He was at work with some waste, cleaning certain parts of the big pump at this station, when in some way he failed to notice that his head was in the way of the piston rod on the pump. He was struck almost in the centre of the forehead, the blow being a heavy one, knocking him down and rendering him unconscious. As quickly as possible the police ambulance was called and the man was conveyed to the Twin City Hospital, where an examination showed that there was a fracture of the frontal bone for a distance of two inches. The blow had depressed the skull so that the bone had penetrated to the brain, and at a late hour last night the man was in a serious condition, although the physicians at the hospital said they were hopeful that he would recover.

J. A. S. Wood was nominated as postmaster at Hope Valley, in the list of nominations sent by President Roosevelt to the United States Senate Saturday.

MACHINE FOR TAKING DOWN DISCOURSES.

If an Alsatian journal has the facts straight, Chevalier Charles Bivort's new machine for taking down spoken discourses has a future: "It reproduces sounds automatically," we are told, "by syllables, in typographic characters. It is operated in the same way as the typewriter; the keyboard has 20 keys. Each key, upon being pressed, points the corresponding letter on a band of paper, which unrolls itself on a sort of pulley. The characters are the same as those of the usual alphabet. It is easy to read at first sight what the machine has written. It is simple, strong, and light, and exacts in its management neither effort nor rigid attention. A child or blind man can easily learn to use it. It writes very swiftly, writing as high as 200 words per minute, without fatiguing the operator or annoying the orator by noise. By means of an interchangeable keyboard it can be used for all languages."

A NEW DOCKET.

Yet Many of the Old-Time Cases Are "still There."

Assignments for Hearing and Disposition of Matters in the Superior Court.

The March session of the superior court opened this morning, Judge Tanner presiding. There is a still newer form of docket, somewhat more pretentious, with data as to sessions of the supreme and superior courts, the names of all the judges, etc. There are 54 printed pages, and two blank pages headed "memoranda," while a list of jurors is printed on the inside of the back cover page.

Yet, amid all the newness and the efforts to bring things up to date, there is still the usual "return of the favorites," as the old announcements used to read, which like the Star Spangled Banner are "still there," and seem good for this century, too. Some of these are the old No. 6 (the new cases are up to No. 1620), entitled Fitch vs. Bailey; No. 86, Dodge vs. Phoenix Electric Light & Coal Company; No. 404, Charles Warren Lippitt vs. Board of Aldermen of Newport, and some of the ancient divorce cases.

The matter of assignments for hearing or trial was taken up. Ricardo Bruser vs. Nathan David was set for March 12. Hida Rike Oberg vs. Ellen T. French is not assigned and may be removed to the United States court.

Jenkins vs. Durfee was set for March 13. There was some talk of setting it for one day, with an understanding that if not reached it would be taken up the next day, but the court was explicit. This could not be done under the new rule, unless it was assigned for two days—a very unusual procedure. It was definitely fixed for the thirteenth.

John T. Reagan vs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt went over to the April motion day, for a hearing on defendant's demurrer, which was said to be extensive.

In Wanda Weidhorn vs. H. G. Hammett, Colonel Sheffield moved for a bill of particulars which should set forth the date and place of the alleged promise and refusal, Mr. Burdick, for plaintiff, agreed to do the best he could in that direction. The defense is a denial.

In the case of Ralph A. Bateman et ali vs. George H. Grant et alios, a decree was entered after a brief pro forma hearing. It is an equity case, brought to secure a division of an estate on the south side of East Bowery street, on which are four houses, used as a tenement property. The shares are sixths and thirds, and Herbert L. Dyer testified that the only proper way to make a division is to sell the estate. The court so decided and appointed Clark Burdick a commissioner to sell the property, give deeds and report. Colonel Sheffield appeared for plaintiffs, and C. A. Aldrich for defendants. The latter, after satisfying himself of the title of plaintiff, agreed to the entering of the decree.

It was stated that there will be a hearing March 15 in an important case, in which counsel are of Cincinnati and Boston. It may not be a long hearing. This is supposed to be the Middletown case of Robert P. Bowler et al vs. Estate of Thomas Emery.

The divorce docket was set for the same day.

There was also a hearing in the petition of Charlotte L. Sherman et al. for a new trustee, under the will of Susan B. Fitts. Judge Burke, the master, had filed his report, which was approved. It was found that there is $10,065 in the trust estate and this will be turned over to the new trustee, J. Truman Burdick, who is ordered to pay from the interest $293.35 to Mrs. Sherman for the services of Mr. Sherman, he never having charged for his services, which covered some three years; and from the principal he is to pay the master $50 and $15 for expenses, and also to pay counsel fees.

Albert K. Sherman vs. Raymond J. Anderton, alias, is settled. Judge Burke for plaintiff, Mr. Nolan for defendant.

Patrick J. Fagan vs. Thomas F. Callahan et ux, is referred to Nicholas Dillon and James Graham, arbitrators.

Pemberton Hare Powel vs. Peckham Company et al. went over to the April motion day.

The equity case of Ruth G. Chase vs. Remond H. Chase et als, was referred to Mr. Nolan, by consent of counsel on both sides, who include Messrs. Mitchell, Sheffield, Jr., Levy, Harvey and Callaghan.

It is understood that the Battle-Robinson case is settled.

Marshall B. Faxon vs. George A. Weaver Company, assigned for tomorrow, went over to the first Wednesday in June, Mr. Burdick, counsel for plaintiff, explained that he was very busy in the matter of electing a Senator by the legislature, and after the court in his dry and quiet way had questioned there being any assurance of success in the Senatorial line tomorrow, Colonel Sheffield, counsel for defendant, not objecting, Mr. Burdick's request for postponement of trial was granted.

At 12:06 the court said "Adjourn to 9:30," but the clerk seemed to have some information, for he interposed and the adjournment waited. After a while Second Assistant Attorney General Greenough came in and seemed to have the idea that there was to be something in his line even if defendants were willing there should not be.

He had the scire facias case of State vs. George Brown taken up, and Brown was called and defaulted. Judgment was then asked for.

The case against Edward A. Brown, for violation of game laws (the new docket prints the charge in each criminal complaint), is set for trial March 11, and apparently is to be tried.

The Block Island cases were considered and Colonel Sheffield spoke of a large number of the witnesses being away from the island in winter. Mr. Greenough said the state had been considerate, and Colonel Sheffield agreed that it had. It was finally decided to put the cases down for trial June 10. They are against Jeremiah B. Allen for assault, Jeremiah B. Allen for malicious mischief, John W. Coe for malicious mischief, and Edward C. Allen, 2d., for malicious mischief.

Dianna K. Scott vs. James C. Keller et al. was set for trial June 7.

About 12:40 a real adjournment was effected, until 9:30 Tuesday morning, when, again, there may—and may not—be something doing.

PROBATE COURT.

In the probate court this morning the will of Julia Lavery was proved and letters testamentary thereon were granted to David E. Lavery. The will and two codicils of Susan Sanford were proved and letters testamentary thereon were granted to William P. Sheffield, Jr. Letters of administration were granted to Dennis J. Curran on the estate of Michael Curran, to William R. Harvey on the estate in Rhode Island of William Westwood, to Hattie F. Goffe on the estate of Emma Sharpe, and to Joseph Pearson on the estate of George E. Pearson. J. Truman Burdick was appointed guardian of the person and estate of Emily Dougherty Burdick. Permission was granted to mortgage real estate of Mary, Catherine, Ellen, Margaret and John C. Egan. The inventory of the estate of Alpha Watson was allowed and ordered recorded. The petition for adoption of Margaret Webb and change of name was granted. The guardian's first account with the estate of Minnie J. Wilson, the conservator's first and final account with the estate of William E. Dennis and the temporary guardian's first account with the estate of William E. Dennis were allowed and ordered recorded.

The petition for probate of the will of Emily J. DeBlois was continued for further hearing.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Mr. William Sowle has gone to Providence to take Captain A. C. Knowles's position. Captain Knowles will return home to serve on the jury in Newport for which he was recently drawn.

Steamer Kennebec of the New line was very late in arriving here yesterday from New York, not putting in an appearance until afternoon. She encountered heavy ice in the Sound Saturday night and returned to her wharf in New York, leaving early Sunday morning.

Mr. Horace Arnold, light keeper at Conanicut Park, reports finding the carcass of a doe, frozen in the snow and ice, on the shore in front of Mr. Nathaniel Jernegan's property. The deer evidently swam across the bay from Narragansett, and landing on the shore succeeded in climbing over the sea wall but was unable to climb the bank, which at this point is quite high and steep. Its position above high water mark and there being no wounds upon its leads Mr. Arnold to believe that the long swim in the icy waters of the bay was too much for it, although it was of medium size and in good condition.

Mr. Ernest L. Caswell, steward at the Hotel Gordon in Washington, will manage the Bay View at Jamestown the coming season, the same as last year, coming here May 1.

DYNAMITE IN RHODE ISLAND'S COAL.

It was made known Saturday that while battleship Rhode Island was coaling recently at Hampton Roads one of the crew discovered in the coal going into the bunkers a stick of dynamite 16 inches long. The piece was large enough to have sunk the vessel had it exploded. Though dynamite will ordinarily burn without exploding if it is in an open space, in an enclosure like a firebox it undoubtedly would have exploded. Also there was every chance of its being set off by a slice bar or coal shovel in the handling. An informal investigation has satisfied officers of the ship that the dynamite came in the coal by accident.

IAN MACLAREN.

Newport rarely has an opportunity nowadays to hear so popular a lecturer as Rev. John Watson (Ian Maclaren), who will give the concluding entertainment in the First Presbyterian Church course. Dr. Watson is the author of "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush" and other stories of Scottish life, while the subject of his lecture, "The Humor of the Scot," is one on which his writings have shown that he is thoroughly competent to speak, and those who hear him will undoubtedly be given a pleasant and instructive evening.

—With the thermometer at 25 at 2 o'clock this afternoon and a chilly northeast wind blowing, the prospects were good for a cold night.

—The Block Island boat brought 17 barrels of fish from the island this morning. The fishermen had a good day yesterday, being out from everywhere.

—According to a despatch received in New Bedford from Congressman Greene, the item for $175,000 for an ocean-going tug to be stationed at New Bedford was not stricken from the sundry civil appropriation bill, and the tug is authorized in the bill.

—Mr. William C. Scott, who was the only member of the new ice company who was not a fisherman, has resigned and his two offices have been filled by two fishermen, Captain Joseph Church being elected secretary and Captain Chester B. Tallman treasurer.

—Past President William Weiner, President W. A. Depitsch, Vice President John Burns, Conductor Matthew Tobin and Inner Guard M. Bonayne, together with a number of other members of Newport Aerie of Eagles, attended the big reunion of Providence Aerie yesterday. There was a large attendance from all this section and the work of the degree team of Pawtucket Aerie received special praise from the Newport visitors.

—The present winter has shaken up a number of sections of the Broadway granolithic sidewalks. A number of these places were cracked by the frosts of previous winters, but while they settled back into place in fairly good shape there is question if many party will do so this spring. Between Malbone road and Summer street there is a place where the blocks are so badly shaken, cracked and undermined that it looks as if repairs must be made to erase stumbling blocks which are developing rapidly.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and Mr. and Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt were guests last week of Lord Waleran at Monte Carlo. Lady Cheylesmere, sister of Mrs. A. G. Vanderbilt, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drexel are also at Monte Carlo. Lady Cheylesmere gave a dinner at the Union Club at Cannes, where the guests included the hereditary Prince and Princess of Hohenlohe-Langenburg, Grand Duke Michael, the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire and Mrs. Von Andre.

RESULTS OF THE THAW.

Principal Streets Converted Into Streams, and Much Work for the Highway Men.

The highway men were out yesterday, doing canal work. The ice was melting fast on Thames street as well as elsewhere, and the men made temporary canals for the water to escape in the easiest way to an eyehole. The work was done well, for while not much digging was done the water practically all ran off, and when it began to dry up toward night there was practically no water to be seen along Thames street. There were places, however, where there was water. In some places there were rivers—or at least they looked as big as rivers to those who found them in their way. The softening of the thaw seemed to reach high-water mark yesterday, and everywhere that the sun had a chance the snow and ice failed and the water had its way. Where there was a chance for it to run it ran, and where there was no chance it formed ponds.

The weather predictions Saturday night were for a storm, the northwest storm signal being out and showing in a clear sky. Sunday morning the wind was from the southwest, with thawing tendencies which developed strongly. Then it grew colder and froze. By this morning the wind had moved to the northeast and it snowed. The snow was not deep, and was practically over by 10 o'clock, but it was soft and made walking on the granolithic again a matter of careful footing and some balancing.

Street Commissioner Sullivan had hoped that he had done the last carting of snow from Thames street for this season, but it proved a vain hope. The Harveyized ice which coats a portion of the pavement has reached that condition which demands either the carting of more ice or the breaking of the springs and other portions of wagons trying to cross the bumps and hollows. So today the pickaxe men went to work on some of the hills, and when they had done something that looked like quarrying the ice was carted away.

The recent thaw turned the railway tracks on outer Broadway into streams, causing a serious washing of the roadbed. As usual, the water comes over the Middletown line in formidable quantities, and gathering in volume washes down the grade until it reaches Fowler avenue. At that point there are two catch basins between the tracks, but the quantity of water is so great that when the cars plow through they throw the water in great sheets, making a spectacular effect. The winter pond on the Greene estate is also overflowing, running across the sidewalk and adding to the water at this point.

Out Broadway there are one or two eyeholes intended, it is supposed, to take the water out that way, but at least one of them is higher than the middle of the road, while the others do not seem to gather much of the running water. A large portion of the outer Broadway roadbed will need to be re-surfaced this spring if it is to be in proper condition, and this is only doing again work done last year.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR MR. ALLEN.

The members of Canonchet Lodge, No. 2,489, G. U. O. O. F., and of Stone Mill Lodge, No. 3, A. F. and A. M., attended a memorial service at the Shiloh Baptist Church in commemoration of the last Henry Lewis Allen, formerly of this city and a member of the two organizations.

Mr. Allen left here last fall and settled in Indianapolis, Ind., where he engaged in business and where he died in January of a contagious disease which made immediate burial necessary. A large number of friends of the deceased, in addition to the members of the two lodges, were present. The eulogy was pronounced by Rev. David L. Cosby, D. D., of Haverhill, Mass., formerly pastor of the Mt. Olivet Baptist Church, of which the deceased was a member, and Rev. Henry N. Jeter, D. D., of the Shiloh Baptist Church. Rev. W. H. Thomas of the Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church and Rev. J. H. Wiley, the present pastor of the Mt. Olivet Church, also participated in the services.

BISHOP KEENE AT ST. MARY'S.

Bishop J. J. Keane, of the Diocese of Cheyenne, spoke at the several services at St. Mary's Church yesterday in behalf of his diocese, for which he is making a tour of the East to raise funds for the better carrying on of the work in that region of great distances and sparse population. He gave people here who have an easy time getting to church some idea of the difficulties under which people of his diocese work to attend service once in a while. He will speak at the Lenten service at St. Joseph's Church tomorrow night.

ARMY AND NAVY Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT.

A large audience was present at an amateur entertainment in the assembly hall of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association Saturday evening. Illustrated songs by Dr. B. H. Luther were one of the biggest hits of the evening. Songs and stories by members of the audience, sleight-of-hand work and a large number of comic slides were also well received. Mr. H. Wood Thompson accompanied the singers on the piano. Mr. Garson, the secretary of the Army and Navy Association, is working hard to make these entertainments a success, and from the way the enlisted men are turning out for them he is being well repaid for his work.

SURPLUS OF $20,000,000.

Will be No Deficit in Treasury at Close of Fiscal Year of 1908.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Representative Tawney of Minnesota, chairman of the committee on appropriations, announced in the House today that instead of facing a deficit in the treasury at the close of the fiscal year of 1908, as seemed imminent at one time, there would be a surplus of $20,000,000 at that time. The total appropriations made at the present session of Congress, he said, aggregated apparently $919,948,679.63.

Senator Allison, chairman of the Senate committee on appropriations, also made a statement to the Senate along the line of Mr. Tawney's presentation. His estimate of the aggregate appropriatio nagreed with that of Mr. Tawney.

EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS

FOR MARCH, 1907.

Of all 'round merit and variety is the Edison list for March. At the same time there are several new and attractive features. A new Edison combination, the Edison Venetian Trio, composed of violin, flute and harp, makes the first Record by these instruments ever listed in our catalogues. And a delightful Record it is, too. The Edison Military Band plays Sousa's famous "High School Cadets' March" just as Sousa plays it, and it's great. Len Spencer makes a solo Record with a hand-organ as its chief feature. The naturalness of the hand-organ would deceive any one. Steve Porter's recital of Flanagan's troubles in a restaurant is real fun. J. W. Myers has another well-rendered ballad. S. H. Dudley shows that he is still a whistler of the first rank. Hear them at

NO SPECIAL SESSION.

Ratification of Santo Domingo Treaty Settles That.

Interesting Facts About "Specials"—Statesmen Getting Ready for Home—Fraud Order Bill Dead.

[Washington correspondence of the News]

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The ratification of the Santo Domingo treaty removed whatever possibility of a special session of the Senate may have existed recently. After Monday next the Republicans will have a clear two-thirds majority in the Senate, and most of the talk about an extraordinary session for the purpose of disposing of the convention was based on the idea that it would be easy to obtain sufficient votes to ratify then, while during the regular session some doubt existed. The Republican leaders ascertained some time ago that at least two Democrats would vote with them in favor of the pact, however, and after that the result was certain. When the vote was taken the number of Democrats who sided with the Republicans in favor of ratification was just two. They were Clarke of Arkansas and Patterson of Colorado. Mr. Patterson, whose term expires Monday, has frequently voted with the Republicans recently. The treaty as ratified provides for a continuation of the present method of collecting Santo Domingo's customs revenues by American agents and for the depositing of $1,200,000 a year for the benefit of the creditors of the island. Senator Bacon of Georgia contends that the arrangement will lead to the acquisition of both Santo Domingo and Hayti by the United States, thus adding a million more negroes to the already large number under the protection of the United States flag.

The Tillman resolution requesting information from all of the departments as to the special employes on their rolls has elicited some interesting facts. One of these is that a great many "specials" have been engaged in violation of the civil service laws. The Interstate Commerce Commission alone expended $15,500 for the salaries of "specials" last year, among those "specials" being Messrs. Hanks and Harriman of Boston, whose relations with the commission brought about the adoption of the Tillman resolution. Two of the Interstate Commerce Commissioners, Messrs. Cockrell and Prouty, each has engaged his son as "confidential clerk" at a salary of $2,000 a year. One of the "specials" on the rolls of the Interior Department is Harry C. Robertson, formerly private secretary to the late Senator Mitchell of Oregon. Certain letters and other documents turned over to the government by Robertson aided materially in the conviction of Mitchell, and now the former private secretary has been rewarded with a position as stenographer at $125 a month.

It's a mighty obscure and unimportant politician who has no friend kind enough to start a Presidential boom in his favor these days. The last statesman to have the fierce white light of publicity thrown on him in connection with a mention of his peculiar fitness for the position of chief magistrate is Senator Scott of West Virginia. The man who has started the Scott boom is "Private" Dalzell of this city. Mr. Dalzell, to quote himself, has sent a letter in favor of Senator Scott's nomination whirling through Republican circles in every state. Each letter contains a request that the recipient make 10 copies of it and forward them to 10 other Republicans, so that in the end every Republican in the land will know about the claims which "Private" Dalzell makes for the West Virginia Senator. Mr. Dalzell in his letters points to Senator Scott's connection with pension legislation as one of the chief reasons why he should be nominated.

The close approach of the close of the Fifty-ninth Congress is indicated in many ways. Around the lobbies of the city's numerous hotels are huge piles of mail sacks containing papers which various law-makers are sending back home. There are many large, nicely finished wooden boxes, too, which are supposed to contain papers and documents, but which, according to cruel slanders often circulated, have been known to contain personal effects which thrifty Congressmen sent thus in order to avoid the payment of freight, for the big boxes and the mail sacks, be it known, are transported free under the Congressional frank. The hotel and boarding house proprietors naturally regret to see Congress adjourn. They reap their harvest while the sessions are on, not only from members of Congress, but from the hundreds of people who come to Washington for various purposes connected with the law-makers.

One bill which President Roosevelt and other prominent public men held to be pernicious and which will die with the session, is that providing for a judicial review of fraud orders issued by the Postoffice Department. It is alleged that this measure was backed by persons against whom fraud orders already have been issued; but, on the other hand, it is contended that the power at present lodged in the Postmaster General is too great and that the courts should be authorized to review his actions.

LONDON SOCIALISTS DEFEATED.

Metropolis Condemns Municipal Ownership in Emphatic Manner.

LONDON, March 2.—Socialism suffered a decisive and overwhelming defeat today at the hands of the London electors. The result of the County Council election is the choice of 79 Reformers, 36 Progressives and 3 Laborites. The last Council consisted of 83 Progressives, 34 Moderates (now called Reformers) and one Independent.

Never, perhaps, in a great community has there been such an extreme reversal of the popular will with regard to a party or policy. The Progressives have controlled London for 18 years, since the creation of the County Council. From the outset they have engaged in a constantly broadening policy of municipal ownership, and it was this policy that formed the sole issue of the present campaign. London has now condemned and repudiated it in a decision so emphatic that its revival is impossible.

The old Council's record of extravagance, waste, mismanagement, deception by false accounts and general incompetence was perhaps the worst ever made by a public body whose members were not accused of personal dishonesty and corruption. Englishmen, however, are the most patient people on earth in their treatment of public officials and their willingness to give any policy entered upon a full and fair trial. Municipal ownership, or in other words socialism, has had such a trial in London and it has utterly failed. That and nothing else is the meaning of London's verdict today.

The figures of the popular vote make the decisions even more emphatic. They are not quite complete, so the exact totals can not yet be given, but the general proportion is more than two to one against municipal ownership. There was an enormous vote cast, but despite this the total Progressive vote shows a substantial reduction from three years ago, when only 46 per cent of the enrolled voters went to the polls.

The Progressive defeat extended even to Labor constituencies. Woolwich, for instance, where there is a large majority of the working class, turned out the Progressive representatives and elected Reformers. Woolwich is a district where the taxpayers have been outrageously mulcted by electric and other municipal enterprises.

Where the Progressives succeeded in holding their seats against the attacks of the Reformers, their majorities were almost everywhere reduced. In some cases, such as at Lewisham, where Lord Lewisham captured a Socialist seat, the Reform votes were more than doubled, while the Progressive vote was proportionately decreased. It was at Lewisham where Lord Roseberry's son, Neil Primrose, was defeated.

Besides Woolwich, one of the most significant reverses is in the Progressive stronghold of Battersea, where a Reformer captured John Burns's old seat by defeating Burns's own nominee.

The whole vote polled greatly exceeds that of the last election.

Among those defeated are Lord Monkswell, former president of the London County Council, and 15 Progressive ex-councillors.

ENJOY EATING.

Good Digestion Can be Readily Gained with Mi-o-na Stomach Tablets.

It is torment to look upon a tempting dinner and realize that to eat freely means distress and suffering.

Let us tell you how you can enjoy eating, so that the heartiest meals will set well and cause no pain, distress or uncomfortable feeling of fullness.

If you cannot eat and enjoy three good, hearty, satisfying meals a day without any feeling of discomfort, your stomach is weak and needs the strength which Mi-o-na stomach tablets will give it. You cannot afford to delay treatment, for the longer you allow the digestive organ to be weak, the harder it will be to get help.

The remarkable curative and strengthening power of Mi-o-na is attested by the guarantee, which Wright & Hay give with every 50c. box. "We return the money if Mi-o-na fails to cure."

If you find that eating well-cooked and properly chewed food is followed by heaviness and load on the stomach, by bloating, by gulping of acids and wind, by distress, nervousness, headache, trouble to sleep, or by any other symptoms of disordered or weak stomach, you should begin the use of Mi-o-na at once. It is guaranteed by one of the best known druggists in Newport to cure all disorders of the stomach, or cost nothing. A guarantee like this means a good deal.

YOKOHAMA, March 4.—The Great Northern steamship Dakota struck a rock off Shirahama, a village between Mojima and Sunosaki, in the bay of Tokio, shortly after 6 o'clock Sunday night. The Secret of Happiness GOOD HEALTH.

When the digestion is not normal, the balance of the body is not given the blood and strength necessary to the proper upkeep of the system. Among the many symptoms you will notice all the so-called "heart troubles," as fluttering palpitating, a feeling of suffocation. The blood does not circulate freely and you are pale, or you feel flushed by the extreme efforts made by the system to throw off the ailment. Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablets and Laxoconfits are the combination of remedies that will relieve you by removing the root of all the troubles, Dyspepsia.

Mrs. W. J. Austin of 936 Smithfield Ave., Lincoln, R. I. says:

"After a few weeks trial, I can happily state that Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablets have proved of great benefit to me. I like them very much indeed, for they have done more for me than other medicines of a like kind and it is with pleasure I give this statement for publication as a recommendation for your sterling remedy."

For sale by all druggists. Better say "Richards" twice. Price 50 cents per bottle. Made by Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 Worth St., New York.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient—with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

UNSOUND MIND AT TIME OF SHOOTING.

who had him in custody, 'I've got to go down in the elevator anyway, can't you take me now?' did he know he was in custody?"

"Yes."

"Did he have sufficient intelligence to know why?"

"He might have had an insane appreciation of the incidents?"

"Do you think he knew he had been arrested for killing Stanford White?"

"I can't tell."

"On the elevator he said 'I did it because he ruined my wife.' Does that throw any light on his condition?"

"Only as it shows, as did the other things, that his mind was centered on this one idea."

"But at this time did he know what he had done?"

"There had been by that time a reorganization of his mental forces and by that time he knew that he had done something."

"Now in the brain storm, did the defendant have any idea as to what he was doing?"

"I believe he had an insane knowledge of what he did—not the knowledge of a sound mind."

"Were Thaw's mental processes such that he knew he was attacking White?"

"He had insane knowledge—yes," replied Dr. Evans.

The new York statute in an insanity defense provides that the person committing a crime must be so insane as not to know the nature or quality of the act, or to know that the act is wrong.

Thaw was paying absolutely no attention to Dr. Evans all this while, but busied himself with reading the letters he had received. As usual he made a note on each letter after finishing its perusal.

Dr. Evans was unable to understand the exact relative position of Thaw and White before and at the time of the shooting, so Mr. Jerome acted the scene out for him.

"We'll imagine Mr. Delmas is the victim," he said, turning suddenly on Mr. Delmas, who dodged, and the judge and jury laughed. Mr. Jerome explained with many gestures and described Thaw's passage down the roof garden, his turning to the left and walking 25 feet to the table where White sat with his head in his hand.

"Then he turned deliberately and calmly, and shot Stanford White dead. Does that fact show that he knew what he was doing?"

"No," replied Dr. Evans, "his calmness does not show he knew, but might indicate that perhaps he did."

"Would the fact that Thaw and his party each had had a cocktail and several bottles of champagne shortly before, have any influence on the affair?"

"Not directly. If it had each of the four would have shot some one."

"When Thaw told the policeman that he shot White and in reply to the policeman's statement that he must go to the station house, he said 'All right.' Did he know what he was doing and what he had done?"

"By that time I think there had been a re-adjustment of his mental processes, and that he knew that Stanford White had been shot and that he did it."

"Does the fact that Thaw told you in the Tombs that he had not wanted to kill White, but had tried to have him punished by law, show that he realized what the law was and that some acts are prohibited by law?"

"At that time, yes," replied Dr Evans.

"You believe Thaw had sufficient intelligence to know that?"

"I can't accept intelligence in the sense you use it," protested the witness, "as applying in cases of unsound mind. A man may be both cultured and intelligent and still be insane."

"Are insane persons deterred by fear of punishment?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"A great many are."

"That is all."

Mr. Jerome's long cross-examination was concluded. He had said on Friday last he would have only a few questions to ask Dr. Evans today as to his opinion of certain authorities on mental disease, but he did not touch upon that subject at all.

Mr. Delmas was about to begin his re-direct examination of Dr. Evans when he asked the witness if he had certain papers in his possession. Dr. Evans said he had not. It was agreed then that he should be temporarily excused and Dr. Charles G. Wagner, superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane at Binghamton, N. Y., was recalled for cross-examination. Dr Wagner was with Dr. Evans on most of the latter's visits to Thaw in the Tombs.

"Dr. Wagner," said Mr. Jerome "will you kindly describe in as few words as possible the kind of insanity from which this defendant was suffering the night he shot and killed White?"

"I would say," said Dr. Wagner, "that it was one of the insanities of adolescence, that it was not developed sufficiently to permit of a definite characterization. There are symptoms leading to various forms of insanity, including dementia praecox."

The two crippled members of the Naval Reserves basket ball team, McMahon and Shea, are able to be out and hope to be in playing form this week. Johnnie Bric, who made such a good showing by his vigorous advances in the Lions and Lambs game last Friday night, is also able to be out today. He took a temporary sick leave rest after the game, but is now able to receive congratulations. He had a sprained wrist and an injured shoulder, besides the other sprains and bruises which went with that strenuous game. Johnnie says basket ball as played Friday night may look funny to the spectators, but is no joke for the performers.

HISTORY OF TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

Revelations in "The Ambassadorship at Paris of Baron de Mohrenheim."

PARIS, March 4.—Some interesting revelations concerning the diplomatic history of the Triple Alliance are made in a recently published volume entitled "The Ambassadorship at Paris of Baron de Mohrenheim." Mohrenheim was for 14 years the Russian ambassador at Paris, and conducted the Russian end of the negotiations which resulted in the Dual Alliance. Jules Hansen, the author of the book, was the counsellor of the embassy during that period. Hansen claims his information comes from a "sure source." He says that besides the official treaty constituting the Triple Alliance with its appended military conventions, Emperor William and King Humbert verbally engaged their words of honor to remain true to the alliance, and to use every influence, should the case arise, to prevent their ministers from dissolving it.

Emperor Francis Joseph later joined this pact, and autograph letters between the three sovereigns consecrating it were afterward exchanged. When made Hansen says the Kaiser was thinking only of France and Emperor Francis Joseph only of the possible aggressions of Russia and the Slavs in the Balkans. The military portion of the conventions were prepared in the most scrupulous care. It foresaw the possible necessity for the union of the Austrian and German forces on the Rhenish frontier against France, the union of the Italian and the German fleets in the Baltic against Russia and joint operations of the allied armies and navies in the Dardenelles and beyond. Hansen says:

"This information is absolutely exact, and one of the reasons Germany always opposed the publication of the treaty was because it contained as many clauses against Russia as against France, and its divulgence would only have hastened the conclusion of the Dual Alliance by dissipating Russia's last hesitations."

But the most curious feature of the "history" is the statement that England was at one time practically a party to it. "In the treaty as it existed before 1902," says Mr. Hansen, "there was a clause or rather a reservation inserted by the Italian cabinet whereby in no case could Italy be engaged in a league against England." In the renewal of the treaty in 1902, Mr. Prinetti "forgot the reserve concerning England." Great Britain, says Mr. Hansen, was very prudent, and was never more than partially engaged.

"The foreign office (England) limited itself to declaring that in the event of war between Russia and Austria, or between France and Italy in the Mediterranean, it was very probable that Great Britain would intervene against Russia in the one case and France in the other without admitting that this declaration entailed upon England obligations as a casus foederis."

Read an old man's tribute.

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything, and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the daytime, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful, and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

NEW YORK, March 4, Wall Street—The stock market opened weak, with Amalgamated Copper at 110¼, American Locomotive 71⅛, American Smelting 137¾, Anaconda 272½, Atchison 101¼, Baltimore & Ohio 109¾, Brooklyn Transit 68⅜, Canadian 181⅜, Colorado Fuel & Iron 44¼, Erie 33½, Great Northern Pacific 158, Missouri Pacific 78¾, Northern Pacific 141½, Norfolk & Western 84, Ontario & Western 43, Pennsylvania 127½, Reading 115¾, Rock Island 24⅝, Southern Railway 25¼, Southern Pacific 90⅝, St. Paul 145, Sugar 130⅛, Union Pacific 168⅝, United States Steel 44, United States Steel preferred 108½.

10—London sent higher prices for stocks today, but prices here responded in only a few cases and the whole list yielded at the opening. Delaware & Hudson and Northern Pacific fell 1½. Union Pacific 1⅜, St. Paul 1¼, Missouri Pacific, Interborough-Metropolitan preferred, Atlantic Coast Line and Pacific Mail and a number of others sharp fractions. Reading and Colorado Fuel opened at advances of ⅝, but fell back immediately with the rest of the list. Great Northern preferred ran off 3¾ in the later dealings.

11—The market was checked in its abrupt fall by the execution of supporting orders, and the concentration of buying orders in Reading, which was marked up buoyantly. The rallies which ensued, however, were not retained, prices again sagging, with the coalers and other specialties going lower than in the previous dip. Ruling prices at that time reflected losses of 2⅜ in Delaware & Hudson, 2 in Interborough-Metropolitan preferred, and 1 to 1½ in numerous others. Toward 11 o'clock the market again moved up vigorously, Reading getting 1⅜ over Saturday's closing, St. Paul a fraction and a good part of the losses of various other leaders were made up.

Noon—Money on call firm, nominally at 5½ @ 6 per cent; prime mercantile paper 5⅝ @ 6 per cent. The market continued unsettled and movements erratic. The Hill stocks were extremely weak, while Reading held up. Bonds were easy.

CHALLENGES ENGLISH PLAYERS.

National Lawn Tennis Association Announces Schedule of Dates for Season of 1907.

The executive committee of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, after a session Friday night lasting long after midnight, announced through its secretary, Frederick G. Anderson, the schedule of dates for the coming season, and also that a formal challenge had been sent to the English Lawn Tennis Association for the Davis International trophy.

Dr. James Dwight, president of the national association, Robert D. Wrenn and William J. Clothier were named as the committee in charge of the international challenge. It was made known that invitations to become members of the challenging team had been sent to the seven ranking players, William J. Clothier, William A. Larned, Beals C. Wright, F. B. Alexander, Karl H. Behr, R. D. Little and H. H. Hackel, and also to M. D. Whittman and Holcombe Ward. Wright has sailed for Europe to be gone five weeks and it is expected that he will get into condition in that time and will be able to play on the team. The Americans understand that the contest for the Davis trophy will be held later this year than formerly, probably some time in July.

In the matter of dates there were several important actions. In view of the South being represented in the championship doubles competition, and another preliminary match being necessary, it was decided to have the two preliminary matches for the doubles championship. This will leave only the challenge match in doubles to be played at Newport.

The date of the national tournament, to be played as usual at the Newport Casino, will be Tuesday, August 20, and the following days, and in addition to the all-comers' tournament for the national championship in singles, there will be matches for the inter-scholastic championship and the challenge match in doubles to be played here. The following are the dates for the more important tournaments to be played during the summer and autumn:

May 27—Longwood Cricket Club, Boston, Mass.; New England Intercollegiate.

May 30—Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton; Massachusetts state championship doubles.

June 3—Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia, Pa.; women's championship of Pennsylvania and Eastern states.

June 11—Hartford Golf Club, Hartford, Conn.; championship of New England.

June 12-15—Rockaway Hunting Club, invitation doubles.

June 14—Longwood Cricket Club, Boston, Massachusetts state championship singles.

June 25—Philadelphia Cricket Club, Wissahickon Heights, Philadelphia, national championships for women, singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

July 1—Orange L. T. Club, Orange, N. Y., Middle states championship.

July 2—Atlanta Athletic Club, Atlanta, Ga., Southern championship.

July 8—Excelsior Tennis Club, Bristol, R. I., Bristol county championship.

July 22—Longwood Cricket Club, Boston, Mass., eastern doubles championship and sixteen annual Longwood singles.

July 27—Kenwood Country Club, Chicago, Ill.; western championship doubles. Western singles for men and women.

July 28—Ridgewood Golf Club, Ridgewood, N. J.; open tournament.

July 30—Nahant Club, Nahant Mass.; invitation tournament.

August 15-17—Crescent A. C., East, West and South doubles.

August 10—Omaha Field Club, Omaha, Neb.; championship of the Middle West.

August 19—East End Club, Cleveland, Ohio. Ohio state championship.

August 20—United States National Lawn Tennis Association, Newport, national championship in singles, championship doubles and interscholastic singles championship.

August 31—Agawam Hunt, Providence, Rhode Island state championship.

September 23—Jamestown (Va.) Exposition championships.

October 1—Longwood Cricket Club, Boston, Mass., women's singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

THE STONE BRIDGE WORK.

More material for the Stone bridge draw construction has arrived and the work on the western deck approach is well advanced. This, like the eastern dock, is being fitted together and later will be bolted and riveted permanently. When the weather becomes less strenuous it is expected that all will be ready for the erection of the great leaves which are to form the drawbridge. It will require time to erect these, and then it is not improbable that considerable time will be required for the adjustment of the various gear which will roll them up and down, so that it will be close to summer before the bridge will be in commission.

THE CHAMPION STINGY MAN.

(Cleveland Leader.)

Many stories have been told of mean men, such as he who used a wart for a collar button and he whose birthday gift to his son consisted in washing the windows so that the lad might see the cars go by. This man, however, seems to have won the palm:

There was an extremely mean man in New Hampshire who was the proprietor of a hotel. By his direction rules were posted in the hostelry forbidding almost every conceivable privilege to those not guests of the place. There was absolutely no chance for the casual loafer to get newspapers, pens, ink, stationery, etc. There were not even free seats in the office.

One day he chanced to observe a chronic loafer gazing at the old clock that hung on the wall. The next day a sign was placed over the clock. It read: "This clock is for the use of the guests of the hotel only."

ONLY ONE SENATOR.

State Now Without Full Representation in Congress.

Week in the Assembly Made Peculiar by Obstructive Tactics of the Democrats.

(Providence correspondence of the News.)

PROVIDENCE, March 2.—The legislature has failed to elect a United States Senator before the expiration of the term of Senator Wetmore. Monday, the fourth of March, he will cease to represent the state in the upper branch of Congress and the legislature will not meet again until Tuesday, the fifth day of the month. The result is that Rhode Island will be without its full representation in the Senate until the legislature fills the vacancy. Inasmuch as Congress adjourns by the expiration of its session Monday and will not meet again, unless for a special session which is not anticipated, until December, the loss of a Senator will not materially affect the interests of the state, except that the inability or neglect to choose a successor to Senator Wetmore or to re-elect him is in a sense a reflection upon the state.

But the vacancy may not exist very long, after all. There is no present indication that the deadlock is any nearer being broken than it was at the start, except that rumors of a break have been more persistent again of late and there seems evident a little more uneasiness over the situation than has been manifested recently. That all parties to the deadlock, both principals and followers, are tired of the conditions and would be glad to have the matter settled there is no doubt, but there are no outward signs of disposition on the part of the supporters of any candidate to take the only action possible to end the deadlock, that of voting for some other candidate than the one they have been supporting. As yet to all appearances the ranks stand as firm and immovable as they have at any time during the protracted struggle which has now lasted seven weeks.

There remain six more weeks of the session of the legislature, during which a ballot must be taken on each legislative day, and if no choice has been made by that time the election will go over to the next legislature and there will be another hard fight over the honor in the fall campaign and the new General Assembly. There is general hope, however, except among the Democrats, that the deadlock will not be so prolonged as to force such an issue at the next state election, for it is recognized by the Republicans that such a condition would be exceedingly injurious to their party and would give the Democrats a tremendous advantage in the fight. It is this consideration which makes it seem as though the party split over this matter must be settled without such a dangerous, if not fatal, mistake being made, but at the same time it is not obvious that either wing of the party is willing to abandon its candidate even for the party weal. And so the deadlock continues and no one knows apparently what the end will come or what it will be.

It has been a peculiar week in the legislature aside from the sessions of the joint assembly for the ballots for United States Senator. Most of the daily sessions have been brief. One day this was for the purpose of allowing the members to attend the funeral of Railroad Commissioner Edward L. Freeman, a former member of both the senate and the house. On other days it was because the senate was without much material to work upon, while the house legislation was blocked by petty quarrelling by the Democratic minority over roll-calls; records and time of assembling. This course was followed to such an extent as to appear puerile and unreasonable, and meanwhile the business of the session was almost entirely suspended. Finally it all ended in a claim by the Democrats that Thursday's session of the house was illegal and a proposition by them that an appeal be made to the supreme court to decide the question of legality, and an attempt by the Democrats to capture the house by calling it to order themselves and electing a Speaker and clerk from their own number. The last action by the minority might have proved rather embarrassing to the Republicans if it had not been for two points. In the first place, the Democrats made the mistake of electing a Speaker by viva voce vote instead of by ballot, as required by the house rules, and in the second place they found that after all they had no quorum and consequently could not transact business. For these reasons the Democratic session amounted to nothing and a regular session followed under the usual conditions.

There was another interesting episode in the house on the first legislative day of the week, when Representative McDonald of Pawtucket called up the resolution which he introduced last week, asking the general treasurer to explain his delay in presenting his annual report. In the meantime the Republicans had been keeping to themselves the fact that this report was presented several weeks ago, but they promptly made it known when the matter was brought up again and accused the member from Pawtucket of making unjust charges or reflections against the general treasurer which demanded an apology. Representative McDonald was fairly caught and took the only action possible under the circumstances, by expressing his regret at his action and withdrawing the resolution.

Several matters were introduced during the week of special interest to Newport and Newport county. These included an act presented by Senator Ward of Middletown for the incorporation of St. George's School, which was referred to the committee on education; one introduced by Senator Caswell of Jamestown, authorizing that town to establish a permanent police force, referred to the committee on judiciary; a resolution presented in the house by Mr. Peckham of Middletown, empowering Margaret T. Graham to execute a deed of land on Long Rock, referred to the committee on state property; a resolution introduced in the house by Mr. Burlingame of Newport, making an appropriation of $500 for State Record Commissioner Tilley, to complete the compiling of records, referred to the committee on finance, this being accompanied by the annual report of the state record commissioner, which was referred to the committee on public institutions, and an act introduced in the house by Mr. Burdick of Newport, authorizing the city of Newport to hire $150,000 to take up notes, which was referred to the committee on judiciary.

Other matters pertaining to Newport county acted upon during the week were the appropriation of $6,000 toward the reconstruction of the Newport Artillery armory, which was taken from the calendar and passed by the senate; the report of the Touro Jewish Synagogue fund of Newport, reported by the house committee on public institutions and sent to the senate, and the bill to establish a relief station and a steamer at Block Island, reported by the committee on special legislation in the senate, placed on the calendar and later recommitted to the committee for minor corrections.

Matters of general interest introduced during the week included a resolution for an appropriation of $69,292 to complete the improvement of the Pawtucket river, which was referred to the committee on finance in the senate; another act regulating the killing of deer, introduced in the senate and referred to the judiciary committee; a resolution making an appropriation of $10,000 for further dredging of the Salt Pond at South Kingstown, referred to the senate committee on finance; an act allowing permanent firemen two days off duty each month, introduced in the house and referred to the committee on judiciary; two bills providing penalties for giving or taking bribes at elections and for fraudulent voting, presented in the house and sent to the committee on elections; appropriations of $2,700 each for the prevention of tuberculosis and diphtheria in man, referred to the house finance committee; an act making corporations liable for the accidental death of employes and one prescribing a penalty for violation of the screen law, presented in the house and referred to the committee on judiciary; a bill authorizing the city of Pawtucket to hire $250,000 for the improvement of its water system, referred to the senate committee on judiciary; an amendment to the act concerning the suppression of intemperance, sent to the same committee; a measure requiring employers to allow employes time to vote at all elections, referred to the senate committee on special legislation; a resolution providing for ascertaining at the next state election the opinion of voters regarding the election of United States Senators by popular vote, sent to the same committee, and an act for the re-organization of the state militia in accordance with the Dick bill, introduced in the house and left on the Speaker's table.

Senator Sanborn of Newport was appointed by Governor Higgins a member of the joint committee to attend the funeral of former Senator Freeman and Representative Lewis of New Shoreham was appointed by Speaker Burchard a member of the joint committee to award medals to the captain and crew of schooner Elsie of Block Island for rescuing survivors of the Larchmont disaster. The house committee on fisheries was organized during the week, with Representative Anthony of Portsmouth as chairman.

THE GIFT OF THE PEOPLE.

Silver Service for the Rhode Island Completed by Gorham's and Ready for Presentation.

The $3,500 silver service which the people of Rhode Island are to give to the battleship which bears the name of this commonwealth has been completed by the Gorham Manufacturing Company, with which the contract was placed some months ago. The service is distinctively the gift of the people, high and low, rich and poor having given toward the fund for its purchase.

Artistically considered it is one of the most finished products of the well known silver manufactory. The seal of the State of Rhode Island, the rhododendron, the state flower, and other suggestive symbols are used in the design of the larger pieces, while each bears the seal. The service is ready to be placed on board the battleship, and only awaits the call for shipment.

The largest single piece is a great punch-bowl, of splendid design and capable of holding five gallons. On it in bold relief are worked portraits of the four great Rhode Island naval officers, Esek Hopkins, Oliver Hazard Perry, Matthew Calbraith Perry, and Abraham Whipple. There are also depictions of the burning of the Gaspee and of the landing of Roger Williams. It stands 15½ inches in height and is two feet in diameter. The design is a special one, and like that of the whole set, is distinctly colonial in style.

The other pieces making up the set are two 30-inch fish trays, two 18-inch meat trays, two candelabra, eight compotes, four large and four small, and a black coffee pot.

The pair of candelabra are 25 inches high and have nine lights each. The nautical design is evident in their workmanship, and the rhododendron, clam shell and the national eagle are prominent. In all the other pieces are worked suggestive symbols of the state, such as Indian corn, grapes, Rhode Island greening apples, the turkey head, the rhododendron, etc. On the coffee tray is a representation of the Old Mill at Newport.

In a prominent place on the great punch bowl is the inscription: "Gift of the People of the State, 1907."

EXPENSE OF SNOW IN LONDON.

(London Chronicle.)

A snowstorm in London involves the expenditure of a big fortune to restore the streets to anything like a passable condition. After the snowstorm of January, 1895, Nisbet Blair, the surveyor of St. Pancras, stated that his authority expended £2,427 on snow removal. There are 28 boroughs in London, and taking St. Pancras as an average-sized borough, the total expenditure would be close upon £70,000. This sum makes no provision for the city of London, and the total cannot fall far short of £100,000. Half an hour's rainfall at this stage would be worth its weight in gold—provided, of course, that it was not immediately followed by a frost.

GIRARD COLLEGE LUCKY STONE.

(Philadelphia Record.)

There is a stone in the high wall that surrounds Girard College that has for years been the object of a juvenile tradition. It is situated on the Ridge avenue front and is about half way between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets and five feet from the pavement. The stone is one of the regular stones of the wall, but it has the peculiarity of being perfectly round in shape and a peculiar reddish brown in color.

There is not a boy who lives in that section who does not regard it as the lucky stone and call it such. According to the boyish superstition, every lad who passes it should spit on it and make a wish, which will come true, and should he ignore the stone in passing bad luck is sure to come. Curious persons, hearing of the superstition, have paused for a few minutes in the vicinity and watched boy after boy spit on the stone as he passed.
